President's Report

Dear NAPSA members,

Congratulations to all those that have finished exams and placements for the first half of this year. 2020 has been a year that none of us were expecting but the way you as a student body have continued to work is a credit to you all. All of you have had to transition to online learning and have continued to uphold a committed work ethic. Many of you have still had placements or part time jobs that have placed you on the front line during this time which has allowed you to develop skills that cannot be taught in a lecture theatre. There have been many new learning experiences to come out of the COVID-19 pandemic which will in turn allow you all to practice as better pharmacists!

Following the success of the past two NAPSA/SHPA Student Symposiums, we are again holding the Student Symposium. This year the Symposium will take place in two parts. The first is an online resource package which will be released on Friday the 3rd of July, followed by a live virtual session on Friday the 10th of July addressing all your burning questions about hospital pharmacy. The virtual program has been shaped with NAPSA and pharmacist input, to give proactive students who are considering a career in hospital pharmacy an edge. If this interests, you make sure to register for the event here.

President's Report

NAPSA is excited to announce our annual Vampire Cup will begin on August 3rd and will run until the 11th of October. We encourage all students, interns, pharmacists, health professionals (and their family & friends) to roll up their sleeves and begin saving lives.

Blood and plasma donations remain an essential activity, and our donor centres need us more than ever! Whilst the pandemic has affected all our lives in different ways, there are still patients in hospital requiring blood and plasma, and they rely on the continued generosity of the Australian public.

It is with great sadness to say that this will be my last ePlacebo as NAPSA President. I would like to take this opportunity to thank you all as members for joining me on this journey. It has been a fantastic year and I am honoured to have served as your President. However, I certainly could not have done it all without the support and hard work from my Board, the NAPSA Chairs and NAPSA Advisory Council. Thank you for being examples of great young leaders and I cannot wait to see what you will achieve as future pharmacists. I wish all the best to the incoming NAPSA Board and Chairs for the 2020/2021 term.

Xoxo NAPSA Love

SHPA-NAPSA Student Symposium

The Society of Hospital Pharmacists of Australia's marquee annual event for pharmacy students is NEXT WEEK! This year, the SHPA-NAPSA Student Symposium is going virtual and will be delivered in two parts! Find out about entry pathways to hospital pharmacy, landing the perfect job and embedding robust lifelong learning practices into every career stage. SHPA and NAPSA have worked together to develop an exciting program tailored for students.

On Friday the 3rd of July, an online resource package will be released to all registered students:

- What are hospital departments looking for?
- Job applications and interview skills
- Communication skills
- Intern experiences
- Overview of the SHPA Residency Program
- SHPA Resident experiences

On Friday the 10th of July, a virtual session will be held:

- Overview of hospital pharmacy
- Rural hospital pharmacy practice
- Overview of Electronic Medicines Information Training (EMIT)
- Panel discussion: answering your burning questions about hospital pharmacy

Seventh Community Pharmacy Agreement

The Seventh Community Pharmacy Agreement provides certainty and stability for Australia's 5,800 community pharmacies, and ensures the delivery of world class pharmacy services to Australian patients.

For students and early career pharmacists, the Agreement provides confidence that the community pharmacy sector is recognised and valued by Government. The Agreement includes a Commonwealth commitment to ensuring pharmacists are able to practise to the full scope of their training and expertise. It also commits the Government to working with the States and Territories to harmonise vaccination regulation across jurisdictions.

The Agreement is first and foremost of benefit to patients, but it is also very supportive of community pharmacists and the career aspirations of young pharmacists in particular. In the negotiations, both the Guild and the Government were mindful of the ramifications for young pharmacists starting their careers in community pharmacy. I want to thank NAPSA, pharmacy students and early career pharmacists for your support as we worked our way through an arduous year of negotiating.

The Government has also committed to support moves by university pharmacy schools to transition the pharmacy qualification to a Masters degree over time, allowing pharmacy graduates to become Doctors of Pharmacy. This is an important step that will assist Australian pharmacists in terms of parity with pharmacy professionals in comparable countries around the world.

Community Pharmacy Agreements between the Commonwealth and the Pharmacy Guild have been in place since 1990, with their key purpose being to provide for the timely and equitable supply of PBS medicines.

Seventh Community Pharmacy Agreement

The Agreements provide certainty for the Government and for pharmacy small businesses that are tasked with the effective supply of PBS medicines on behalf of taxpayers to the maximum benefit of patients.

Key features of the Agreement include:

- Underpinning the dispensing of more than 200 million subsidised prescriptions each year for Australian patients, dispensing remuneration is increased and indexed.
- Increased investment in regional, rural and remote areas through an increase in the Rural Pharmacy Maintenance Allowance, ensuring patients in regional Australia continue to be well served by a local pharmacy.
- New funding to enhance the Closing the Gap PBS Co-payment measure for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.
- Expanding patient access to Dose Administration Aids
- Maintaining the investment in medication management programs to support older Australians' medication management and adherence
- Recognising the benefits that will flow if the regulations affecting pharmacist vaccination across Australia are harmonised.

CaSPA's Hospital Pharmacy Webinar

On Tuesday the 9th of June the ACT SHPA branch ran a Q&A webinar which featured hospital pharmacists and interns from Canberra Health Services and Calvary Public Hospital Bruce.

Amazing advice was provided about written applications and the roles and responsibilities of a hospital pharmacist. It was great to hear from pharmacists and current interns about their experiences, tips and tricks for applying! Thank you to those who attended and especially to the ACT SHPA branch for organising the event.

NAPSA Executive Director

Happy 100th Birthday!!

On the 16th of July, William “Bill” Lumley AM, the first-ever NAPSA president, celebrated his 100th birthday!!

Bill served as Victorian Pharmacy Students’ Association’s first president also, before becoming NAPSA’s foundation president when the Victorian and New South Wales associations amalgamated.

Bill is an inspiring man who has dedicated much of his life to supporting the health of the community, including dedicating much of his time to the board of management of the Peninsula Ambulance Service. It was for his great work with the ambulance service that Bill was appointed as a Member of the Order of Australia (AM) in 1991.

NAPSA would once again like to wish Bill a happy birthday and thank him for his hard work and dedication to community health care!

SAPSA's Education Event

SAPSA's very first educational event for this year took place on the 29th of May. It was SAPSA's first collaboration with Daily Learning and the event detailed tips and tricks on how to excel in community pharmacy.

Despite not being able to organise a face-to-face event, there was a big turnout of students and they had roaring questions which added to the learning of every attendee.

The amazing line up of speakers included: Harry, Amy, Nga and June, who all shared their knowledge about the growing pharmacy profession and their overall take-home message was to take every opportunity as it comes!

Thanks to all those who attended and special thanks to our wonderful speakers!

Rural Spotlight – Rural Queensland

In the June/July break I was able to explore the rural towns of Queensland and had the honour of working in a community pharmacy in both Mt Isa and Karumba. Although both these towns are classified as rural, they were very different in the way pharmacy was utilised and the challenges that faced them.

Mt Isa gave me the opportunity to experience the rush of a mine town, and understand the limitations put on the town due to its distance and demographic. Even though it is a small town, I was able to keep entertained after working hours and on the weekend with social activities such as trivia, or just by having a beer at the local pub. I was also able to take in the natural beauty hiking up the Pamela and Telstra hill.

Karumba opened my eyes to isolation that can be experienced in a rural town. I saw first-hand the constant problem solving, and interdisciplinary collaboration to ensure healthcare is being delivered to the patients of the town. Although I was in an isolated town, the town folk and my colleagues made me feel at home, inviting me to see the famous sunset and for dinner at the Barra park. For a sleepy town, I was definitely kept busy!

Rural Spotlight – Rural Queensland

Overall, I thoroughly enjoyed my placement. I was very fortunate to experience these two different towns as I also got to work side by side with some of the best in the profession and experience more of my own back yard.

LocumCo: How to Ace Your Online Interview

As a consequence of Covid-19, LocumCo has noticed a dramatic increase in online interviews. Here are some tips on how to best prepare!

BEFORE:

1. What hardware are you going to use?

Choose the one you are most comfortable with and has the most reliable technology.

2. What location will you choose for the interview?

The ideal scenario for your interview location is a secluded room in which you can shut out distractions (and noises), control the lighting, and display a generic background. If possible choose a location in which you can be seen on camera from about the waist up.

3. Test, test, test the technology

Test your connection, test your camera, test your lighting, test your sound and test the video program. Make sure that you understand how everything works and then when comfortable that you are across it all, test one more time just before the interview.

4. Can you call a friend?

Try and schedule a trial interview with a friend or family member and ask them for constructive feedback on how you look and sound.

5. What if there's a stuff up?

Always have a backup plan if something goes wrong on the day of the interview. You can always switch to a phone call if you have technology or network issues.

6. Have you done your homework?

Make sure you have done your research on the pharmacy, if they are part of a banner group or independent. What do they stand for? Prepare some responses to expected questions!

LocumCo: How to Ace Your Online Interview

ON THE DAY:

1. Have you tested the equipment?

Do a run through prior to the scheduled interview

2. What have you selected to wear?

Remember don't choose something too "out there".

3. Is your phone turned off?

Remember to turn off all apps and programs that might interrupt the interview. Silence your phone. Make sure you are seated and ready 10 minutes before the interview to collect your thoughts.

4. Do you know what nonverbals are?

Make solid eye contact and smile at appropriate times. Have good posture and even lean in a bit. You may be inclined to look at the monitor or yourself, but focus on making eye contact with the interviewer via the camera.

5. Is it ok to have notes?

Unlike face to face interviews, you can have some notes in front of you (off camera) to remind you of critical issues you want to highlight. Do not overuse them as this will become obvious.

6. What should I be aware of when answering questions?

When responding to questions from the interviewer, nod, but take a second before responding in case the connection causes a lag so you don't end up talking over the interviewer.

AFTER:

1. What should I do as a follow up?

Just like with other interviews, it is good practise to follow up with a thank you note to the interviewer.

GuildEd assists pharmacists, interns and students meet their professional development and education needs through CPD approved education, the CPD learning plan and online training options. Recent courses include;

Misuse of prescription medicines free education

The misuse of prescription medicines such as opioids and benzodiazepines is an increasing health problem in Australia. It's a difficult issue to tackle as a pharmacist. Many people begin using these medicines to treat their pain or mental health issues, but are then susceptible to harm and dependence. Finding the balance on how to manage these complex health issues while minimising the risk of harm to the patient can be a challenge.

A new course discussing this difficult issue titled Medicines misuse: Lessons from the coroner is now available on GuildEd.

The course is based around a New South Wales coronial inquest into the deaths of three patients from prescription medicine misuse. In each case, we look at actions that may have minimised the risk of harm to the patient. The online module provides practical advice on interprofessional collaboration and partnering with patients to ensure the safe use of high risk medicines.

Podcast in Focus Episode 47: Mental Health and Workplace

Wellbeing with Kay Dunkley and Helen Lowy

Community Pharmacy is an engaging and rewarding industry to be a part of. On the other hand, however, it can at times be challenging and overwhelming. Workplace stress is a common experience for pharmacists and pharmacy staff, and it can present in many ways and over different periods of time.

The industry has harboured a long-held notion that working long and stressful hours, under high prescription numbers, and constant patient queries are par for the course, and this can often lead to cultures of stress and burnout within the profession.

The recent outbreak of COVID-19 certainly hasn't made any improvements in this environment and many pharmacies are now coping with the stressors of customer abuse, business continuity plans, and keeping up with ever-changing guidelines. It is a timely opportunity to get the conversation rolling on workplace wellbeing and mental health in Community Pharmacy.

In this episode, we speak with Kay Dunkley, a registered pharmacist and current Executive Officer of Pharmacists Support Services.

We also chat with Helen Lowy, registered pharmacist and counsellor. Click on the image for more!

IPSF Beyond! Health Hack

In collaboration with the International Pharmaceutical Students' Federation's (IPSF) and the International Federation of Medical Students' Associations (IFMSA), Beyond! Health Hack will bring pharmaceutical and medical students together from more than 18 countries to create a future where the preventable burden of influenza is a thing of the past.

Over the course of two days, participants will be briefed on a series of 'real-world challenges' that stand in the way of influenza vaccine uptake, with student teams brainstorming unique solutions from scratch on an interactive online platform. Solutions can come in all forms, from individual level, such as social media campaigns, to system level changes in healthcare administration.

This event is supported by Sanofi. It will be run via a robust gated platform – only accessible by registered attendees and provide meaningful interactions and networking opportunities. The hackathon will be an immersive virtual experience, offering students the opportunity to collaborate, ideate, solve real problems while being mentored by experts from the fields of infectious diseases, vaccines, public health and life sciences. Each winning team member will be provided a professional training opportunity to master presentation and negotiation skills to effectively succeed in their careers.

Ultimate QLD Trivia

At the start of the year, before COVID hit, we were able to hold a joint networking night with all Southeast Queensland pharmacy schools (GUAPS, QUTPSA, QPSA). We did feel there was a missing aspect to the night and soon identified what it was! With the Ultimate Queensland Trivia, we were joined by JCUPSA, thus making it a true, intra-QLD event. It was offered to all four pharmacy schools in Queensland and to our surprise and delight, we were also joined by a few interstate players!

The night ran smoothly with a strong competitive nature helping drive the event and keeping it exciting the whole way through. The competitiveness of the teams, however, was sure not to dishearten anyone from getting involved. Over the four teams, we had great involvement and even better costumes, a true must see! For those who missed out, you will just have to wait until next time as I am sure everyone will be dressed to impress.

To meet the tribulations of COVID restrictions head on, we moved online. Thanks to the amazing efforts of all of the Trivia Masters (selfless volunteers from each university), the night ran smoothly with limited bias, or so I have been led to believe! Our MC was none other than QPSA President, Eilis' Rigby, who managed to keep all of us giggling.

Ultimate QLD Trivia

The night was organised with a team effort and it really shows the lengths that we can achieve, even with such location adversities! To finish the night off, we even had a little Meet the Presidents round and let me tell you, we have some impressive representatives on the Advisory Council. Did you know that James Yang (QUTSPA Present) had a goat named Buttercup and that Breannan Buseti has had a hand in fostering two children?

Together we achieved a joyous night of networking and, I feel I must say it, learning. With random facts and students from all over, this night has helped bring us together once more. On behalf of all four QLD Presidents, we look forward to organising more joint events in the future and offering the opportunity to create networks that will last long into the future.

Smith & Nephew Webinar

On Wednesday the 24th of June, NAPSA members attended a Zoom webinar on all things wound care brought to us by Smith & Nephew. Pharmacy students across the country dialled in to learn or refresh their wound care skills!

Covering all things wound physiology, referral points, pertinent questions to ask patients and a full rundown on the available Smith & Nephew products, it was a valuable session for all those who attended.

Thanks again to all those that attended and our fabulous speaker Sarah, from Smith & Nephew!

Ethan Kreutzer
NAPSA Publications Chair

The image shows a screenshot of a webinar slide. The top half has an orange background with the 'smith&nephew' logo in the top right corner. The title 'Your role in wound care' is written in white. Below the title, on a dark blue background, is the text 'Providing solutions to your customers' wound care needs by:' followed by the heading 'Asking questions' in white. A list of seven questions is provided, with the first four starting with 'When', 'How', 'Where', and 'What' in bold. A small video inset in the top right shows a woman, Sarah, speaking. The bottom half of the slide is dark blue with white text.
